Bouquets

Teardrop bouquet, posy bouquet, hand-tied informal, there are so many styles of bouquets that you can choose from and these can be discussed with Mary your florist. If you have a colour theme for your wedding and would like to have aspects of this colour incorporated into your bouquet, then this can easily be done. Any swatches of ribbon you can let the florist have will help enormously to obtain the right match of colour.

Flower Balls

A ball of fresh or artificial flowers with a silk ribbon attached for carrying.

These flower balls are ideal for bridesmaids and younger flower girls to carry. They can be crafted using a complimentary colour to the brides bouquet or to match.

Buttonholes

Each buttonhole is framed using a choice of leaf/leaves. We can use roses, carnations or calla lilies, the choice of flowers is up to you.

Stems are taped and buttonholes are supplied with a decorative pearl or diamanté headed pin.

Corsages

An alternative to a bouquet is a wrist corsage. They are ideal for brides and bridesmaids alike and offer an elegant way to wear your flowers.

They are less expensive than a traditional bouquet and more delicate. The expandable bracelet with fresh flowers attached is convenient and comfortable to wear all day long, leaving you free to enjoy all aspects of your wedding day, dining, dancing whilst wearing your flowers.

Testimonials

'Mary was fantastic from start to finish! After meeting Mary I changed my mind several times and communicated my ideas via email. Mary was great as she took my pictures and helped me by providing suggestions for my flowers with a Thai twist! I was delighted on my wedding day when my flowers arrived and they were more beautiful than I had anticipated. Many, many thanks.'

Emma & Ben, 5th August 2011

'Mary and Mike were fantastic from start to finish. From the initial meeting they listened to all our requirements and came up with some stunning floral displays. We wanted something a bit different (peacock theme) and they exceeded all our expectations and all within the budget we set them. The flowers they recommended were truly beautiful and complimented the entire day, they were so fresh that we were even able to dry them after we arrived back in the UK a few days later. We've had so much positive feedback from family and friends either on the day or from the wedding album. We would not hesitate in recommending Ellerymay La Fleuriste.'
